Can clothes do something?

Can we make a hat that opens up on top and a spider pops out?
Can we wear a shirt (or pants) that make sounds?
Can we make gloves that have scary nails like cats?
Can a hat make our suspenders move our pants up and down?
Can we make a jacket out of egg cartons?
A hat out of cerialboxes?

These are just some fun questions to get you thinking...

It could be a spider moving down on a string when opening the door…

It could be a pulley system that moves a toy from one side of the room to the other?

It could be candy that moves away as soon as you touch it?

It could be some kind of a rube goldberg machine, where when entering a room a serious of things happen...
